

International Workshop „Wittgenstein and Hegel – Negativity and Language“

The international workshop devoted to the negativity and language in Hegel and Wittgenstein will continue the discussion begun at the Wittgenstein–Hegel conference at TU Dresden in June 2017. The keynote speakers are Prof. Kenneth R. Westphal (Istanbul) and Prof. Pirmin Stekeler-Weithofer (Leipzig). The new volume „Wittgenstein and Hegel – Reevaluation of Difference“ (de Gruyter 2019) will be introduced as part of the programme.

The organization of the workshop is supported by The European Regional Development Fund-Project “Creativity and Adaptability as Conditions of the Success of Europe in an Interrelated World” (No. CZ.02.1.01/0.0/0.0/16_019/0000734).

The workshop takes place on 11 – 13 June 2019 at Kampus Hybernská (Hyberská 4, Prague 1; Room 2D). For more information, see the event website.
