COLLECTIONS AND DATABASES

In the collections of our libraries, there are stored more than 1 million printed documents. High-quality and carefully picked collections encompass publications of all study programmes at CU FA. Physical documents along with the electronic information resources create the collection of CU FA Library.

Basic search tools for the collections:

UKAŽ Discovery Service | UKAŽ allows simultaneous searching of printed, digitized and electronic resources available at CU. This means you can easily search for materials for your study needs or scientific work – books, articles, journals, theses, conference materials and more, all from a single place.

It also allows you to:

- View and renew your loans
- Make a reservation (request) for a document currently unavailable in open stacks (loaned / in storage)
- Save searched records to Favorites
- Export document details to a citation manager or send them via e-mail
- Check the availability of an electronic journal or e-book in CU holdings

eResource Portal | A structured comprehensive list of subscribed databases and other electronic resources. It serves as a default access point to electronic resources from the computers at the Faculty as well as remotely from home or dormitories.
