CONTENTS

Aleš Klégr, Pavlína Šaldová: Coding Anger in Fiction .................................................. 7
Gabriela Brůhová, Markéta Malá: On English Locative Subjects ............................... 19
Anna Kudrnová: English it-clefts with Focused Subject from the Perspective of FSP and their Czech Translation Equivalents .................................................. 39
Vladislav Smolka: What Comes First, What Comes Next: Information Packaging in Written and Spoken Language ................................................................. 51
Libuše Dušková: Syntactic and FSP Aspects of Fronting as a Style Marker ............. 63
Renata Pípalová: Encoding the Global Theme in Research Articles: Syntactic and FSP Parameters of Academic Titles and Keyword Sets ......................................... 91
Jana Kozubíková Šandová: "... and our study might therefore have been slightly underpowered": A Cross-Linguistic Analysis of Hedging in English and Czech Medical Research Articles ......................................................... 115
Tomáš Gráf: Verb Errors in Advanced Spoken English ............................................. 131