FACULTY OF ARTS PRESS

Diversity of disciplines at the Charles University in Prague, Faculty of Arts and the outstanding quality of research creates a unique academic environment with an impact extending far beyond the Czech context. This is of course reflected in the FA publishing activity. Publications by our staff members often represent the highest standard and serve as basic reference titles in their fields.

For several years now, the flagship of the Faculty of Arts editorial activity, the Opera Facultatis philosophicae Universitatis Carolinae Pragensis series, has been introducing exceptional works which affirm the prestige of our research. The traditional Acta Universitatis Carolinae edition series has been recently joined by the exclusively monograph editions published by the Faculty of Arts Press: Mnemosyne, Trivium, Fontes, Humanitas and Varia. Besides these regular series, FA Press publishes several representative individual works every year.

The wide range of subjects taught and researched at the faculty is reflected in our journals that are published several times a year, often in foreign languages. Beginning with the year 2015, all FA Press journals offered in this catalogue are Open Access journals with online content freely available to the readers under the CC BY-NC-ND 2.0 licence. The publishing activities of the FA are thematically so diverse and of such outstanding quality that they are able to address both the experts and the lay public.

ČASOPIS PRO MODERNÍ FILOLOGII / JOURNAL FOR MODERN PHILOLOGY

Journal for Modern Philology is a peer-reviewed non-impacted linguistic journal published in Czech (or Slovak). It was launched in 1911 and between 1926 and 1935 it was the main publication outlet for the Prague Linguistic Circle. It is concerned with contrastive linguistics, the study of West-European languages in contrast with Czech (or Slovak). The focus is primarily on major European languages (English, German, French, Spanish, Italian and Portuguese), to a minor extent on other languages. Items include original articles covering all aspects of contrastive linguistic description, along with interdisciplinary approaches. However, in view of the range of other, specialized periodicals, Journal for Modern Philology does not, with a few exceptions, accept items dealing with issues concerning Slavic Studies, Oriental Studies, teaching methodology, Translation Studies and Literary Sciences.

FÓRUM SOCIÁLNÍ PRÁCE / SOCIAL WORK FORUM

Formerly print, since 2015 online-only journal is focused on the theory and practice of social work, social policy and related disciplines. Reviewed academic papers form the core of the journal. In addition, the journal contains preliminary and methodological communications and reviews of domestic and foreign publications. A special section of the journal is dedicated to abbreviated versions of final student theses. Another section presents examples of good practice or work methods that could serve as an inspiration or model; another regular section is dedicated to discussion and polemic on topical themes in the field. A special section concentrates on the language of the field of study, while another regular column is dedicated to the history of the field. Editorial support is provided to the journal by the Department of Social Work of the Faculty of Arts of Charles University in Prague, established in 1992 as one of the first departments of its kind in the Czech Republic.

HISTORIE – OTÁZKY – PROBLÉMY / HISTORY – QUESTIONS – ISSUES

Based on the specialist orientation of the Institute of Czech History of the Faculty of Arts of Charles University in Prague, the Historie – Otázky – Problémy profile thematically focuses on the history of the Czech lands and Central Europe, from the early Middle Ages down to contemporary history. Individual studies are to cover a broad range of topical historical subjects, both involving political, cultural, social and economic history and the history of historiography, current developments in the methodology of historical studies and issues associated with the didactics of history. In all these areas the journal operates not only along the latest historiographical lines, but also and in particular in broader interdisciplinary collaboration with other humanities subjects (e.g. auxiliary historical studies, the history of art, Czech studies, philosophy, philological fields, sociology, Jewish studies and the like). The extensive annotations provide the researcher community with continuous information on successful diploma theses and dissertations. Individual issues are complemented with the usual research service in the form of reviews, annotations and news from Czech and foreign conferences.

SLOVO A SMYSL / WORD & SENSE

Slovo a smysl / Word & Sense, a journal of interdisciplinary theory and criticism in Czech studies, was established in 2004. The periodical strives to create a forum for scholarly debate and the elaboration of various theoretical and methodological approaches within the context of Czech literary studies. With its emphasis on publishing primary sources and the translation of both Czech belles lettres and global literary theory, the journal acts an aid in the teaching of Czech literature and literary theory not only in Czech universities, but also in foreign university programs. The journal contains longer original scholarly works, individual analyses of more extensive specialized topics, and contextual and biographical essays on significant figures in the field. It also focuses on Czech studies at home and abroad and provides the latest information about the scholarly activities of various foreign programs; the Translations section provides translations of important or stimulating theoretical texts into Czech and of significant Czech literary and theoretical texts into other languages, especially English.
