

CALL FOR PAPERS – THE JOURNAL OF CULTURE

We would like to inform you about the monothematic issue of The Journal of Culture (2/2016) which is now under preparation, with the following preliminary title:

Ethnic process / diversity / identity / conflict

We appreciate papers that offer new understanding of the phenomenon of ethnic process, not only in the field of ethnology or anthropology but in other relevant disciplines, such as sociology, history, economics, geography, political science etc. We aim to mediate an international and interdisciplinary debate between recent research projects that focus on social specificity, identity or economic potentials of ethnic process. Our focus concentrates on Central Europe from Baltic States to the Balkans, but we also welcome comparative papers from other regions of Europe as well.

Here are some research topics to be addressed by the special issue:

1. Ethnic Processes in Global Society: The Imagined or the Real World?
2. Migration in the Processes of Ethnogenesis
3. Identity Construction and Transformation in Ethnic Processes
4. Processes of Migration and Integration in European Countries
5. Ethnic Identity of Migrants and Processes of Racial/Ethnic Self-Identification
6. Assimilation Models, Old and New: Becoming European
7. Gender at Different Levels of the Ethnic Process

Deadline for submitting full papers: 30 May 2016 direct to the editor Barbora Půtová:
