We are pleased to draw your attention once again to the seminal course book set by Robin Setton and Andrew Dawrant (2016):

Conference Interpreting – A Complete Course and Trainer's Guide

Robin Setton and Andrew Dawrant
Researcher, Paris / Sinophone Interpretation, Shanghai

The fruit of eight years' work by two lifelong practitioners and trainers, these books contain the most complete description to date of a training course for professional conference interpreters.

A Complete Course: This comprehensive course book sets out an updated step-by-step program of training in the integrated skills, language proficiency, knowledge management and professionalism that conference interpreters will need to meet the increasingly challenging conditions of the 21st century profession.

A Trainer's Guide: This companion volume to Conference Interpreting: A Complete Course provides additional recommendations and theoretical and practical discussion for instructors, course designers and administrators.
